

The Supreme Court Fellows Program Application

Instructions

Type all responses and answer all questions fully. Do not include supplementary material (such as books you have written); it will not be reviewed if sent. Do not mail your application in a binder, or package it in any elaborate way. Use a paper clip or binder clip to hold the pages together. Applicants will be notified by mail when their complete application has been received.

Mail your application to:

Supreme Court Fellows Program
Room 5
Supreme Court of the United States
Washington, DC 20543

Visit the Fellows Program website at <http://www.supremecourt.gov/fellows/apply.aspx> for information on application deadlines.

5. Writing Samples

Please attach copies of no more than two samples on 8½ x 11-inch paper of your written work (i.e., writing samples written entirely by you). These may include, but are not limited to, articles, reviews, papers, and chapters from books or dissertations. In most cases, one sample of approximately 20 pages is sufficient. Please send the copies in a format that is easily reproduced.

6. Candidate Statement

On a separate sheet, please describe why you are applying for this fellowship, what you consider to be your major strengths and qualifications for the program, and what benefits you feel are likely to result from your participation. To the degree possible, reference specific projects or work of the sponsoring agencies to which you believe you could contribute and explain how your background and skills relate to those projects. Please limit your narrative to 700 words.

7. References

Please reproduce the Candidate Evaluation form on the last page of this application and give it to a minimum of three and a maximum of five people who know you well. References should have a direct knowledge of your qualifications and character. Each reference should send the evaluation directly to the program. Your application cannot be considered without these references.
